Second Month's Query Meeting for Worship

Are we faithful in our attendance at meetings for worship and are we careful not to disturb the spirit of the meeting by our late arrival? Is our behavior therein that of open submission to God in silent communion?

Minutes

FRIENDSHIP MONTHLY MEETING FOR WORSHIP WITH ATTENTION TO BUSINESS GATHERED ON THE 13TH OF FIRST MONTH 2008

Meeting began with silent worship. In attendance were Betty Austin, David Bailey, Gay Bowles, John Bowles, David Brown, Mae Brown, Maureen Burns, Judith Harvey, Kembra Howdeshell Claire Koster, Martha Lang, David MacInnes, Sidney Lee Kitchens, Harry Nagel, Janet Nagel, Chris Nelson, Rodney Owen, Bonnie Parsons, Richard Phillips, Susan Phillips, Sam Phillips, Don Smith, Rebecca Sullivan, Carole Treadway, Ray Treadway, Daryl Waisner, Lisa Waldman, George White and Marilyn White.

David Bailey read query #1 from Faith and Practice:

Do we faithfully uphold our testimony for worship which is based on silent waiting, and for a free and unprogrammed ministry that may be shared by all? Is there a living silence in which we feel drawn together by the Light of Christ, the power of God in our midst; and is this inspiration carried over into our daily lives? Do we come to meeting with hearts and minds open and ready to worship in silence or in vocal ministry or prayer as the Holy Spirit leads us? Does our Meeting encourage those who may have a gift in the spoken ministry?

Many Friends responded out of the silence. The following minute serves as a summary of the discussion:

In general our meeting feels that we are doing well in this area, that our vocal ministry nurtures us deeply as does our silent ministry. In our consideration of this query Friends noted that the ability to have a settled, gathered meeting for worship that is divinely guided is heavily dependent on individual spiritual preparation outside of meeting through regular spiritual discipline and inquiry. In meeting for worship we find there are three forms of ministry: vocal ministry, silent ministry and the ministry of holding the space of the meeting itself. When considering vocal ministry, questions were raised about how to best support Friends who offered this ministry and how we discern gifts in this area Friends noted that silent ministry is essential do our meeting, especially in a world that becomes increasingly hectic, noisy and chaotic. Friends noted the importance of the ministry of holding the space of the meeting and some asked whether our worship would be enriched by more mindfully following this practice.

Friends approved the minute. Kembra Howdeshell will revise the minute over the course of the next month.

Ray Treadway presented the Treasurer's Report for Twelfth Month which was accepted. The complete report is attached to the minutes; a summary follows:

| Twelfth Month | Income | Expenses | Ending Balance |
|----------------------|------------|------------|----------------|
| General Fund: | $8,042.00 | $1,867.99 | $ 15,310.34 |
| All Funds: | $8,972.00 | $1,867.99 | $ 26,789.06 |

Expenses of note during the month are: $400 for assistance for travel (one person to FCNL meetings twice and two persons to Pendle Hill Board meetings), $450 in donations recommended by the Social Concerns committee (Prisoner Visit & Support, Interfaith Worker Justice, Quaker House Capital Campaign, and New Garden Friends Meeting for the immigrant family), $100 to Quaker House for operating expenses, and $150 to Friends Homes, $150 for the People for Faith against the Death Penalty, and $254.71 for repairs.

As a result of several generous contributions during the last month of 2007, the total income to the general fund for the year was $23,356.03, which exceeded the budgeted amount by $146.03 and exceeded the total spent by $3,705.34. Part of this excess will be transferred to the contingency, emergency assistance, and building funds which allow us to serve others and prepare for future expenses as our building plans require.

The Treasurer's report was accepted with thanks.

Clerk David MacInnes read a letter from Stephen Phillips requesting financial assistance to attend the Quaker Youth Pilgrimage in 2008. Friends agreed to provide $1,000 of support for him and to increase next year's travel budget to $2,000.

Finance Committee Report

Ray Treadway presented the Finance committee report it is as follows:

The Finance Committee, consisting of David Brown, George White, Ray Treadway, and David MacInnes (ex officio) met on First Month 13th, 2008, to consider the issues of long-distance service, a proposed budget for 2008, and the status of a pledge of $1,000 to North Carolina Yearly Meeting FUM, a pledge which was put on hold in 2006. First of all, the Meeting received a bill for service charges of $12.50 from Sprint for long-distance charges for the first time in December. A spokesperson for Sprint informed us that unknown person had "authorized" a change of long-distance telephone service to Sprint in November. Since having long-distance service is no longer necessary and does not justify the monthly service charge, the Finance Committee recommends that long-distance service from any carrier be blocked. If a long-distance phone call from the Meetinghouse is necessary, we can use a cell phone or a calling card.

We reviewed the summary of income and expenses for the year 2007. Generally, the actual amounts needed and spent in 2007 were $3,500 less than the budgeted amounts for 2007. We agreed, in principle, that there is no need for a committee to spend funds which are not needed, but this should not affect the budget for 2008. We noted that for the general fund, the income of $23,356.03 was very close to the 2007 budget of $23,210.00. However, we were not aware of reason to believe that income will be higher in 2008. Given the uncertainty of any major increase in income, we decided to make only the few changes to the budget and to leave other items at the 2007 level. We propose a budget which is slightly lower than the 2007 budget, for a total of $22,860.

The committee examined the budgeted amounts and the actual amount spent in the various budget categories and looked at the income to the various funds. We considered specific requests for committee expenditures and made adjustments based on these suggestions. $1,500 will again be budgeted as scholarships to support two of our members attending the School of the Spirit. We received no specific requests from members and attenders to change the amounts to be given to support organizations, so these were left at the same amounts. (Note that the $3,600 budgeted last year for North Carolina Yearly Meeting Conservative included a special donation of $100 for the hearing-assistance fund, so as approved in Sixth Month, 2007, the amount for NCYMC was left at $3,500.) We did respond to a special request from the Quaker House Capital Campaign by budgeting $500 for the that purpose, over and above the contribution of $1,200 for operating expenses. We increased the projected amounts for utilities by modest amounts, taking into consideration rising costs.

The Finance Committee discussed the continuing issue of the unpaid pledge of $1,000 over five years to support the Quaker Lake Conference Center of NCYM-FUM but came to no conclusion. We suggest that this be discussed more fully by the monthly meeting as a whole. If the original intent of our decision was to show our cooperation with NCYM-FUM in general and our desire to assist in financing the new building at the Quaker Lake Conference Center in particular, might we consider redirecting the money to other worthwhile activities of NCYM-FUM, such as humanitarian aid to Quakers in Kenya and Jamaica or financial support of MOWA Choctaw Friends Center in Alabama? Would such support be inconsistent with our witness against the troublesome policies of NCYM-FUM toward the GLBT community?

This budget represents the best "guess" that we will have for the needs of the monthly meeting in the coming year. If the situation warrants, the meeting can always adjust the budget at a later time. At the beginning of the year the excess in the general fund will be transferred to other funds according to the "beginning of the year" policy, so that the balance in the general fund will be one-half of the budget for the year. The proposed budget is given here.

Friends agree to block long distance calls from our telephone and the proposed budget was accepted with the corrections noted.

Friends addressed the question raised by the Finance Committee about funds for the Quaker Lake Conference Center capital campaign that have not been reallocated. The clerk raised the question of whether and in what context we can support worthy programs when we disapprove of some of the policies of their parent organization. After some discussion it was clear that this issue needed further seasoning and it was sent to Worship and Ministry for seasoning.

Worship and Ministry Committee Report

Daryl Waisner presented a report from Worship and Ministry it is as follows.

Planning is underway for the All Meeting Retreat. A Planning Committee has been formed. Second Month, Sixteenth Day, 2008 is the planned date with Third Month First Day as a back-up date. If anyone has thoughts or questions, please direct them to any of the Ministry & Worship committee members.

Worship & Ministry continues to work with School of the Spirit alumnae to aid in their further using their gifts/talents in service to the Monthly Meeting.

Friends accepted the report with thanks.

Care and Counsel Committee Annual Report

Members: David Bailey, Gay Bowles. Maureen Burns, Al Carwile, Steve Hayes, Rebecca Valla, George White, & Priscilla Zuck

Somehow last fall, I became Clerk of the Care & Counsel Committee just as we were scheduled to travel (California twice for starters) and I was suffering from a painful sciatic nerve that required back surgery. I don't know what the Committee did during the year so I will do what I usually do and I will just make it up. Instead of an "Engineering Report," I will submit a "Novel."

The first month I was Clerk, a member reported that she needed "Care Giver" relief for her husband's medical transportation twice a week. Meeting volunteers provided the sixteen trips needed for the first month. This gave her time to make other long term arrangements for the next months. Another member asked for and received a small short term loan which was repaid at the end of the next month.

Early in the fall, the Meeting, in its infinite wisdom, told the Committee to contact inactive members to determine if they desired to continue their membership. Two members of the Committee drew up drafts of possible letters but consensus is missing. Quakers have a long history of kicking out members which may explain why there are only 125,000 Quakers, worldwide. Indeed, my Great-Grandfather was "read-out-of-Meeting" back in 1854 because he married a Baptist. Luckily he and his bride continued attending Piney Woods Friends Meeting or I would be a Baptist now. In 1863, they came back as full Members. We will continue our search for consensus.

The Committee worked with Worship & Ministry to sponsor the Christmas Eve service at Friends Homes. There were "readings, music, worship based on silent waiting, a fire in the fireplace, and at the end, refreshments."

A joint memorial service with New Garden Meeting was held May 6th for Caroline McHardy Elliot, wife of David Bailey. Caroline suffered a sudden case of Rocky Mountain spotted fever that took her life on May 3rd.

I am told there were no marriages this year but David Barron was welcomed as a new member.

House and Grounds Committee Report

Rodney Owen

They are holding off on major work because they do not know what the future is of the meeting-house. The question of replacing the sign was raised. Friends agreed that they could go ahead and replace it. A leak in the roof over the men's room needs to be patched and there is a leak under the kitchen sink. The trim around the door will need to be repainted. The committee seeks guidance from the meeting on replacing burned out bulbs with compact fluorescents. Friends also asked the committee to consider these repairs as well as replace broken storm windows. A friend noted, and others agreed, that keeping up the building is in keeping with our integrity as a meeting. The report was accepted with thanks.

Membership Committee

David read two letters requesting release from membership for Alice Myer and Harry Myer. Friends approved. The clerk will write to them acknowledging their requests.

New Years Eve Celebration

REPORT ON FRIENDSHIP MEETING'S CHRISTMAS PARTY, DECEMBER 16th, 2007

Over 40 members and friends joined us for the Christmas program. Our special guests were the Burmese family that has been sponsored by New Garden, First Friends and Friendship Meetings. Christmas gifts were given to the family and were very much appreciated. The gift camera was put into use that night.

Our program started with carol singing. Several people brought musical instruments and played during the singing. A number of our Young Friends also joined in; some also doing solos during the rest of the program. They included Michael Heitfield and Stephen Phillips. Moe Owen read the Christmas story from Luke.

Stories, songs and poems, some serious, some humorous, were shared by members of the Meeting, as well as the annual reading of King John's Christmas.

After the program there was a bountiful selection of delicious food, which was enjoyed by all.

In order to share some of our bounty, we collected non-perishable food, which was donated to the Salvation Army food bank.

Ad Hoc Committee

David MacInnes reported that the committee will be meeting Thursday, January 17th. We have received word that the City of Greensboro has grandfathered our property and that we are now in compliance with the city watershed ordinances. Now that the urgency to action has been removed, Friends encouraged the committee to proceed more as a long range planning committee. Questions were raised for the committee to consider. Rodney Owen has been appointed to the committee. The topic of future plans was also suggested for the upcoming retreat. Friends accepted the report with gratitude.

Mae Brown reported that the New Years party at the Browns' house was a great success.

After a brief period of silence Friends adjourned, purposing to meet, God willing, 12th month 2007.

Respectfully Submitted,

Friendship Meeting Celebration
New Years Eve with the Browns

As the year 2007 ended 15 revelers gathered at the home of Mae and David Brown for the annual Friendship New Years Eve celebration. Games, puzzles, fellowship and tasty treats were shared by all.

Sid Kitchens again jumped his way to a Chinese Checkers victory as he challenged five other players.

As the new year approached the group gathered for a time of shared readings that ranged from the humor of Phil Gully and Tom Mullins to the wisdom of Gerald Manley Hopkins and the Psalms. After the readings Friends settled into worship and quiet contemplation of the passing year offering their prayers and hopes for themselves and the world in the year to come.

Our thoughts and prayers are with Darlene Stanley and Jessie Garvin on their recent loss of Jessie's father, Jim Garvin. The meeting sends them our love and support.

Ernest Miller who recently has spent a week in the hospital undergoing a series of tests. He is home at Friends Homes/Guilford and delighted to be back in his apartment.

Letters from Nan Bowles

18 December 2007

Dear members of Friendship Meeting,

18 December 2007

Four days before the Winter Solstice. Winter skies are clear, cold and crisp. The air is pure and clear. Breathe deeply and listen. Walk in the winter sky. Walk in the moon light. Walk in the star light. Come home and get warm by the cozy woodstove. Cheeks aglow with the cold winter air. Breathe in the starlight and the moon light. I find walking helps purify my thought and feelings. Walk. Touch the Earth, touch Spirit. Touch the Earth. Touch Spirit. The magic of winter frost crystals greets us this morning. To us it is a world transformed. We give thanks and are filled with Love, Compassion, Wholeness and Gratitude.

A memorable swan encounter took place at dusk one December evening. Twilight came and went with darkness settling in over the marsh. Suddenly I heard swan voices ringing out across the night sky as if a hundred thousand bells had sounded. Some were high, some low and some even cracked. Yet all together the swan voices combined to create a comforting, rolling rhythm of chaos, reverberating in the cold air.

Swan truth was spoken. Wildness was here. They flew directly overhead long necks stretched out. Large wings carried them through the night sky silhouetted against a blue and purple evening. Wind whistled through feathers while they passed by. Swan energy tingled up and down my spine. A winter evening with the swans.

Winter greetings and prayers go out to all of you, my home meeting. May the Love and Light of the season touch you all.

Nan Bowles

23 January 2008

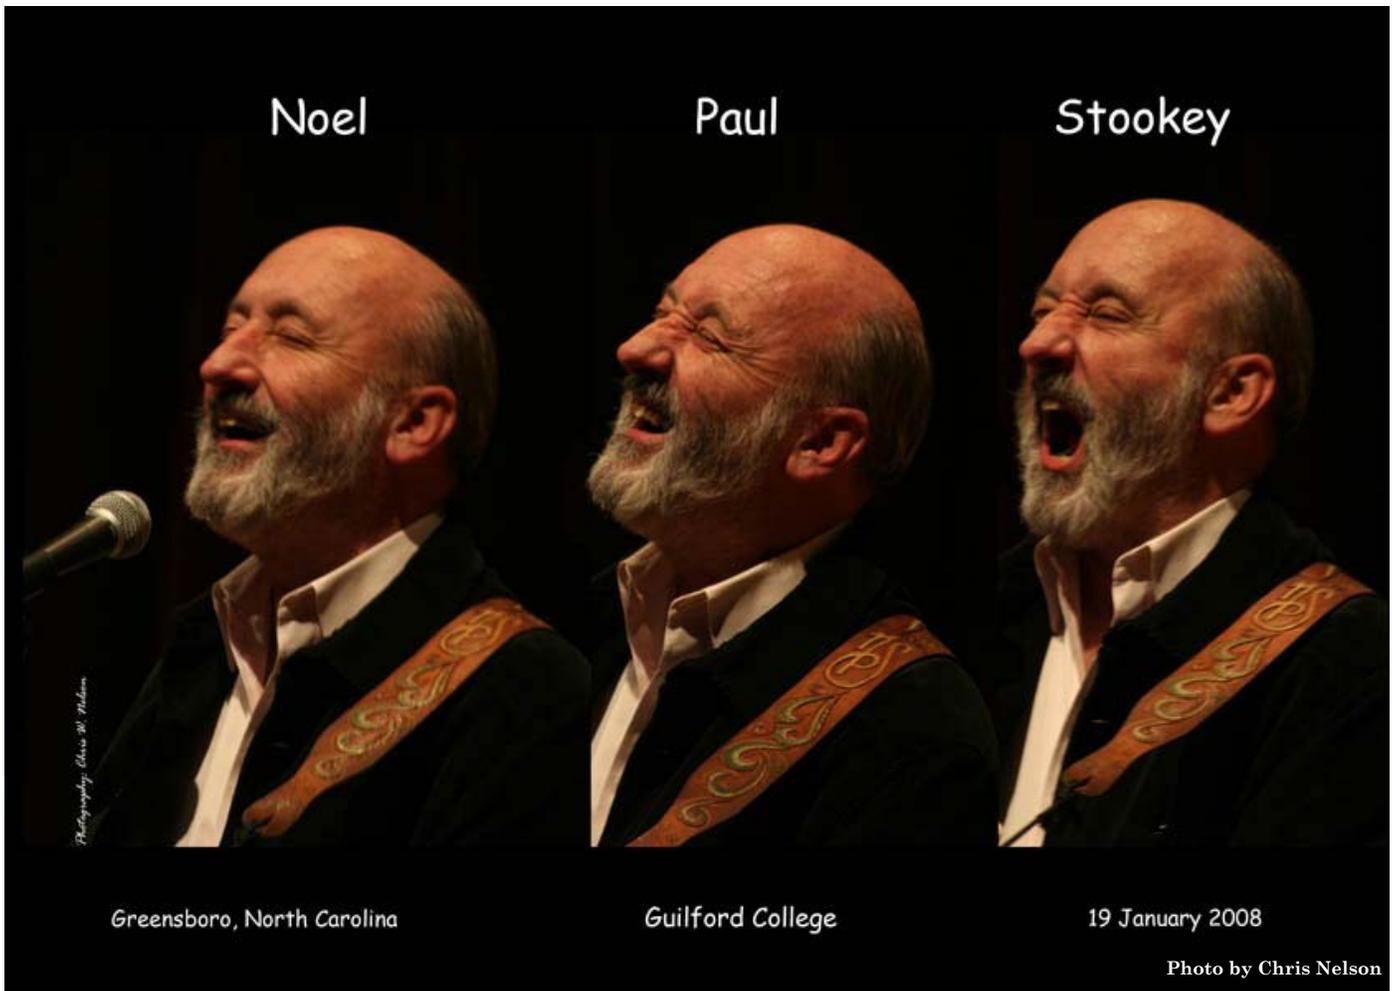

Touch the Earth. Touch Spirit. Listen to the Earth. Spirit Speaks

Somewhere, somewhere, somewhere,

A small bear is listening.

Are we aware?

I am in the process of listening to a message that comes to me from a small bear member of our neighborhood. We have never met, but I am aware of his/her presence from an adventure that came on Christmas Eve day, involving tracks: the hidden story. Walking, walking, we are walking on a sand road. There. There in the sand. Gentle imprints of a small bear. A child bear. Feet shapes left there in the soft sand. We put our hands over the prints, still warm with small bear's spirit. Bear child where are you? What fragrances of the Earth fill your sensitive nose? What mushrooms have you found? Did you hear the swans too? Did you find a place? A place in the scented pine needles to warm your black back? Was your summer full of blueberry feasts and insect grubs? Did Jenny wren's song tease you awake? Bear Child where is your mother? All this I wonder as I hold within me the image of your footprints. Small bear tracks. Subtly, gently held in the sand. Bear Child.

I have held the small bear in Love and appreciation prayer because it feels that is what Spirit is asking me to do. Maybe on some level small bear can feel it, I don't know but I want to be faithful. It is simply what I am being asked to do. However, I did go to the library and found a children's book on bears and thus learned that bears have acute hearing. They must for their survival. So there it is. Small bear is out there listening and so am I. Perhaps we will hear one another, connected through our sense of sound.

A question comes up within me, of why the words Bear child and not bear cub are used. Spirit responds that the term, Bear child; yes, it's anthropomorphic on one level, but on a deeper level it serves to awaken and alert me to find the common areas of our lives. The places where our edges merge. One example is that we live in the same community. Another is to love the Bear Child neighbor as myself, I am to consider his or her needs as well as my own. We are both breathing living mammals out there listening. Deep listening.

Peace be with you Friendship Meeting!

Current Issue for Action

The Peace and Social Concerns Committee will often highlight issues of current importance that we would like to bring to the attention of the Meeting. Our hope is that Friends can use this information to educate themselves and take action where they feel led. There are two issues this month.

1. FCNL has begun a five month letter-writing campaign to persuade Congress to work for peace. This month the topic is funding civilian peace builders.

The failure of the war in Iraq has fueled a growing understanding that the US needs diplomatic tools to help prevent war, but Congress has not yet invested in programs that can lead to a lasting peace. As a result, FCNL is encouraging letter writers to contact their representatives and ask them to support the Reconstruction and Stabilization Civilian Management Act (H.R. 1084). Instead of sending the military to countries on the verge of or emerging from conflict, the US could send civilian experts to strengthen public institutions. This would be a more effective response to deadly conflict, save lives and resources, and help these states move towards a more sustainable peace.

2. The Care Team for the Aung family is looking for donations of electric sewing machines. One has already been donated to Tuza and it turns out that she and other Burmese women in her complex have training in sewing. This might become an area of possible employment for them. Therefore, if anyone has a working sewing machine that they are willing to donate, that would be greatly appreciated. Please contact Neil Swenson at 834-0890, or nswenson@aol.com.

Friends in Kenya report first-hand on post-election violence

By now many Friends are aware of the ethnic violence that erupted in Kenya following the presidential election on December 27th. The FWCC World Office has created a blog where you can find commentary on events, with links to additional sources of information. The prevailing message in communications coming out of Kenya asks for Friends around the world to pray for the situation. Kenyan Friends have been both directly, and indirectly, affected. Most of the violence has been directed towards the Kikuyu, while the majority of Kenyan Friends are Luhya. John Muhanji, Kenyan Director of the Africa Ministries Office of Friends United Meeting, wrote on January 2nd: "Friends when you see yourselves enjoying the peace you have now wherever you are praise God for everything. Because that can be taken from you in a twinkling of an eye as it happened here in Kenya. Peace is something that needs to be guarded with a lot of care from everybody in the world."
